

---

The first BFLG Meeting in the North West

Posted by tinaharris - 2009/05/18 10:44

---

Hi all,

As you are aware, the Brain Friendly Learning Group holds regular meetings in the Thames Valley. These meetings have been very popular and, as a result of demand, we are now pleased to invite you to our very first meeting in the North West on 26th June 2009. This will be held between 10am and 2.30 pm at Cheshire View, just outside of Chester.

The subject for this meeting will be Brain Friendly Learning for the Sceptical. Actively participate in Brain Friendly principles to answer these questions and more:

- What is Brain Friendly Learning? What are the benefits?
- Why use BFL techniques? Is it efficient or more time consuming? How does it improve results?.....

Find out more and book your place at <http://braininbusiness.com/content/view/26/40/>

=====

Re:The first BFLG Meeting in the North West

Posted by John Fisher - 2009/06/16 10:06

---

hi, sorry can't make this event ahve other things on that day but am interested in others up here:(

=====

Re:The first BFLG Meeting in the North West

Posted by B1B*Stella - 2009/07/02 13:45

---

Hi John,
We'll keep you posted about the next set of dates.
They'll be going on the website soon.
Regards,
Stella

=====